Dear Stew:

So many thanks for your cordial telegram on our Birthday. I read it to the Class and asked them to greet you - just in case you might have a radio working in your neighbourhood that was able to pull in the Class. Their applause was vociferous and spontaneous. Many thanks!

In haste, but

Sincerely,

Denton

Dear Friend:

I would like to have you take a Sunday at the First Church, but the Chairman of the Committee informs me that the dates are all filled. I shall be interested in your plans for literary work. I hope you will enjoy LINCOLN AND HIS CABINET.

With best wishes, I am

Faithfully yours,

C.E. Macartney

My dear Friend,

Yours dated yesterday came in this morning. Let me first say how very sorry I am to know that you have all been having this bout of grippe. I do hope that you all getting through it. Also the news about your bank is bad. Howard at Lexington has just been through the same experience. I cannot for the life of me understand conditions in this country when one remembers that by far the larger part of the gold in the world is stored here. There is "something rotten in the state of Denmark"!

Your news about Stony Brook produces conflicting emotions. I am delighted to know that you are likely to be there, but,--I am not keen to be associated with the Professor named. I am utterly out of sympathy with the spirit which he has manifested, and I personally never feel a spirit like that is warranted by extreme orthodoxy. However I suppose we shall get through.

Whatever do you mean by saying that if I should get elected a delegate to General Assembly, I am not to refuse to go! My dear Sir, there is no chance of their ever electing me. I never go to Presbytery. Fortunately I cannot go because I am always out of town on Monday; but I don't think I should go if I were here. You ask why? The reason is that I have been once or twice!

I am glad to tell you that the Tabernacle student situation is on a much more satisfactory basis. The man they have appointed-(I enclose you an Order of Service for tomorrow from which you will see his name, etc), came to see me, and so far as I am concerned the interview was pre-eminently satisfactory. He is a graduate of the McCormick Seminary fifteen years ago, and has done work in a lumber camp, and in industrial centres, and so knows life and its present needs. I am bound to say I feel very happy about it at present.

With love to the children, very much to Queen Anne, and fraternal greetings to yourself.

Always yours,

WMH
